Steve Raebel Garners Academy Nomination

Steve Raebel has been named as one of the two principal candidates, from South Dakota, to the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

A total of about twenty young men applied for this position, and from these twenty, Steve was named by Senator Karl Mundt as a principal candidate. Steve applied for the acceptance in November, 1970.

Steve, however, has not yet been accepted by the Academy; he first must undergo a physical, pass certain academic tests, and also take the American College Testing Program test. The results will be sent to the Academy and Steve should know if he has been chosen by sometime this spring.

The U. S. Air Force Academy is a four-year academic course of study; and upon graduation, the cadet holds a Bachelor of Science degree and receives a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force. The mission of the academy is to "train, educate, and motivate young men for lifetime careers as Air Force officers."

Steve is a Redfield High School senior and is active in many activities. He participates in football, basketball, and track. Steve also is a member of the "R" club, Key club and is an honor student.

Speakers Cop Fiesta Honors

Debby Jones placed second in the women's extemp at the Northern State College debate tournament held on January 28 and 29. Leta Nolan also made the finals but failed to place.

Affirmative teams entered in the cross-examination and the traditional debate divisions and posted winning records. Leta Nolan and Janet McNeely teamed for a 4-1 record. Darlys Olson and Susan Nelson went 3-2.

Janet and Leta's counterpart, which posted a 1-4 record, was composed of Vicki Cockrell, Don Zundel, and Debby Jones. In the novice division, Todd Ringgaard, Angie Cockrell, and Rick Clement debated. This trio posted a 0-5 record.

RHS Co-ed Procures Homemaker Award

Debby Jones is RHS's Homemaker of Tomorrow. She earned the highest score in Redfield's 1971 Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow aptitude test, given to all the senior girls.

With her new Betty Crocker title, Debby will automatically be entered in the State competition. There she has a chance of winning a $1500 scholarship, an expense paid tour of Eastern United States with her adviser, and an advance into national competition. Second place is awarded a $500 scholarship.

This year a $1000 Nutrition Scholarship has been added. The winner will be selected from the School Homemakers of Tomorrow who rank among the top in their field their desire to pursue college respective states and have specistudies related to nutrition.

This Betty Crocker Search is planned to achieve the following goals: (1) enhance the dignity and prestige of the American home; (2) stimulate interest in homemaking; and (3) emphasize the outstanding contributions to the home made by high schools and their teachers.

Debby wants to major in home economics in a foods and nutrition field with a minor in journalism. She has completed the three year home economics high school course and has participated in FHA for four years. Debby has also been a Girls State representative and has been ranked as a National Merit Semifinalist. She is a member of the National Honor Society and is currently serving as president of the NFL.

Young Democrats Begin Community Campaign

Political activity in RHS has begun with the organization of the Spink County Young Democrats. The club, formed initially in late October, defines its purpose as providing assistance to the registered Democrats in the county and serving as an outlet for political expression for the youth.

Leta Nolan is serving as president of the group. Other officers are Bruce Cartner, vice-president Cenera Stewart, secretary; and Debby Jones, treasurer. At present, the club has twelve members. Membership is open to all high school or college age youth in Spink County, although all of its members now come from Redfield High School. Mr. Gordon Bohl is acting as adviser for the organization.

The main project being undertaken now by the Young Democrats is a telephone canvass. They are polling the party on preferred candidates and an assessment of present Democratic leaders. Later, the canvassing will include phone calls to Republicans, questioning them on their political feelings. The group will also distribute literature for the upcoming elections as well as assist the party on fund raising.

Presently, the club is not affiliated with the state organization, but it hopes to obtain a charter soon. To do this, the club must submit a constitution and one dollar dues per member. The state organization provides directives for local clubs and sets groundwork for political activity.

Some members will attend the Two-Party Celebration planned for Huron February 5. Leading South Dakota Democrats will hold a press conference for the delegation.

Senior NHS Initiates

Initiation ceremonies for the newly picked National Honor Society members will be February 1. Members picked from the Senior Class are Marcene Gallup, Silvia Silins, Bill Kent, Scott Tennill, Gary Lambert, and Pat Schaffer.

Editorially Speaking...

Students Need Self-Evaluation

Evaluation is something that we all should do at this stage in the school year. We should look critically at ourselves and ask what we are contributing to the school and what we are accomplishing as individuals.

We need to know how we are progressing before we can see where changes can be made. And really that is why we are here, to progress. We should be developing ourselves scholastically, emotionally, socially, and individually. If we are not striving for these basic goals, we may just be wasting the taxpayers' money.

Consider the important area of school involvement. Are we active in clubs, music, sports, or other extracurricular activities? This is as much a part of the high school experience as studying. If you find yourself sitting back and watching things go by, start looking for that organization which is made for you. Our school offers an activity for nearly every individual's needs. Take advantage of it.

School is a learning activity. If we do not treat it as one, these years are a gross waste. We will discover this when we become part of the adult world, and we may suffer.

Support of school is another extremely important part of it all. We must have the proper school spirit, and we must try to make it known to others. Things such as enthusiasm and attitude can be very contagious. Words cannot express the importance of student backing when it comes to athletic teams and other performers. Without this they may feel that the efforts are going unnoticed and unappreciated and the entire school will suffer. The win-loss record of an athletic team is not pinned upon the twenty or so students who comprise the team, but the entire school is attached with it.

Finally as individuals, we have to realize our potential and produce accordingly. We should set goals, high goals, and never stop trying until they are reached. Realizing our strong and weak points will be beneficial to us when we go to do something. Self-discipline may be the most important thing when it comes to individual accomplishments. In all, individual action may be the key to a successful school year.

National Forensic League Members Spend Winter Months At Tourneys

Each week throughout the winter months members of the local NFL chapter participate in forensic competition. These contests are sponsored by area high school and college speech departments.

A typical varsity tournament begins with two rounds of individual events on Friday afternoon. That evening two rounds of debate are followed by three rounds of debate the next morning. After that the final rounds of individual events and debate are held.

Most tournaments offer several options in individual events. Students may prepare a ten minute speech to enter in original oratory, or they may draw three topics an hour before speaking time. Many tournaments also have an oral interpretation division in which the student presents a dramatic reading. New at one tourney this year was humorous impromptu — the students were allowed five minutes to prepare a speech on an absurd topic.

During each round the judge ranks each contestant first, second, etc. He also rates the speaker according to performance: superior, excellent, or good. From these scores contest officials determine the best speakers. These students compete in a final round which determines the winners in that event.

The debate topic this year is "Resolved: that the jury system be significantly changed." All contests involve this topic, regardless of the style of debate used.

Championship debate involves two-man teams who debate both sides of the question. It is also "cross-X"; that is, each speaker is questioned for three minutes immediately after his first speech.

Also cross-examination, another division, consists of four-man

AFSer Describes Chores

Having done the farm chores here for three days in sub-zero weather, I have decided that I prefer the chores at home. Only taking an hour for chores is fine in nice weather, but it is too long in the type of weather that we are experiencing at the moment.

At home the chores will take most of the day, with a three hour break at the most. We will start milking at about half past six in the morning and finish about nine; that includes taking the milk a half-mile up the lane to the collection point. After the morning milking is done, the milking utensils are washed and prepared for the evening milking.

The next job is to clean and wash out the milking parlour and to clean out the calf sheds. By this time the calves and heifers are usually bawling for their hay so this has to be gotten and fed to them. Hay also has to be put in the milking parlour ready for the cows to eat after their evening milking.

Before the cows can come in, silage has to be cut and brought in for them, unless they have been in the pit under a self feeding system. Without any complications this work can be finished by dinner time which means that there is a break till about 5:00 P. M., when the cows have to be brought in and milked. After milking, the cows are bedded down with straw, fed hay, and left to themselves till the morning.

Although the hours we work are longer, the work is fairly easy and can be taken at a leisurely pace. This means that it is not necessary to strain oneself to get finished or to worry about getting frozen.

January 21 and 22. Fifty-seven schools from North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, and Wisconsin participated in the event.

Janet received the third place trophy in novice extemporaneous speaking, and Debby tied for third in the oral interpretation division. The squad had a 4-win, 6-loss total score, with each team turning in 2-3 scores. The two teams consisted of Debby Jones and Rita Silins, and Leta Nolan and Janet McNeely.

Cagers Capture Win Over Faulkton Five

Upcoming games will see the Pheasants battling Aberdeen Roncalli February 4 at Redfield and Webster February 5 at Webster. Roncalli and Webster are presently anchoring the second and third spots in the conference, and both teams defeated the Pheasants handily in previous meetings.

FAULKTON

Golden Pheasant cagers battled to their first win of the season in defeating Faulkton 65-62 January 29. The non-conference tilt was played at Redfield.

Redfield trailed throughout the game until midway in the final period. Trailing 16-8, 28-22, and 50-38 at the quarter stops, the Pheasants needed a strong final surge to provide the 3 point margin of victory. Turnovers were the major factor as Redfield amassed only 15 turnovers to 22 for the Trojans.

Russ Battey led Redfield scorers with 23 points. He was followed by Randy Swedeen with 13 and Daryl Jungwirth, 10 points. Jungwirth led the rebounders, capturing 13.

The Chicks upped their record to 10-3 by winning the preliminary 65-54. Reed Siegling led all scorers with 23 points. Steve Jones and Denis Guenther added 17 and 11 points, respectively. Dana Coats was top rebounder, garnering 13.

CLARK

A fine comeback effort almost earned the Pheasants their first victory of the year, but the surge fell short and Redfield was defeated by the Clark Comets 82-78. The conference game was played at Redfield January 28.

Daryl Jungwirth played an outstanding game, leading the Pheasants in both scoring and rebounding. Jungwirth garnered 21 points and 24 rebounds. He was followed closely by Steve Raebel with 20 points and Russ Battey with 19 points.

Jungwirth Scores

Daryl Jungwirth scores over 6-4 Jay Schemechel in a game played at Redfield January 15. Webster dropped the Pheasants 83-56.

Frosh, JV's Conquer Foe

Two very close ball games resulted in a pair of victories for the Redfield frosh and JV teams January 18. The games, played at Redfield, boosted the frosh seasonal record to 2-3 and established the JV record at 1-4.

Coach Sam Willits' freshman team led at all quarter stops 6-5, 12-11, and 20-17 on its way to carving a 26-22 triumph. The balanced Redfield scoring attack was led by Ray Anderson and Tim Booze, who netted six counters apiece.

The JV team earned its first victory of the year with a strong second-half comeback bid to win the contest 40-37. The lead saw-sawed throughout the contest as the Pheasants led 8-6 after the first quarter, only to trail 17-14 at the half. Redfield forged to a 29-27 lead at the end of the third quarter and then maintained a small margin for the remainder of the contest. Kevin Gaulrapp and Randy Bush paced the Pheasant offense, counting 12 and 11 points respectively.

A comeback effort fell short as the JV team was defeated 71-60. Coach Lonnie Scriver's team trailed by scores of 17-11, 40-30, and 61-44 at the quarter breaks. Randy Bush turned in a fine performance on his way to a 23 point lead in the Pheasants' scoring. He was followed by Kevin Gaulrapp, counting 12 points, and Steve Jones with 10.

The frosh played to the short end of a 43-25 score, after trailing 15-3, 18-12, and 43-17 at the quarter stops. The freshmen suffered a slow start and were unable to surmount the lead built up by the tall Miller quint. Gerald Nuhsbaumer counted nine points to lead Redfield and was followed by Ray Anderson with six points.

Wrestlers Decision Clark Comets; Complete NEC As Co-Champions

Coming dual matches for the Pheasants are with Doland on February 1 and Miller on February 11. The Pheasants will host the Northern Plains Tournament on February 5.

February 1 will be the first time Doland and Redfield have met in a dual match. When the Pheasants travel to Miller on February 11, they will be out to avenge a narrow 23-21 loss last year at the hands of the Rustlers.

CLARK

RHS wrestlers completed their conference schedule with a 36-13 win over Clark. The win put the final Pheasant conference record at 6-1.

Redfield finished in a three way tie for first place with Sisseton and Milbank. At Clark, Dale Jessen gave the Pheasants the lead which they never relinquished with a pin. Rick Welke won a 5-2 decision at 105.

Jeff Gaulrapp and Bruce Cartner added 12 points with consecutive pins to make the score 21-0. Dave Nelson got the other pin for the Pheasants at 132.

At 138, Gary Van Vleet decided his opponent 3-0. Gary Lambert won a decision by the score of 5-0. Terry Hansen won the last Redfield points by deciding his man 3-0.

The "B" squad also finished its conference record at 6-1. The Redfield reserves trounced the Clark "B" squad 51-12.

Faulkton's top ranked wrestling squad defeated the Pheasants on January 25 at Faulkton. Redfield was on the short end of a 30-21 score.

Undeclared Dale Jessen obtained a pin at 98 for the Pheasants. Rick Welke followed and won the only decision for Redfield by the score of 7-0.

At 119, Bruce Cartner added six points with a pin. Steve Betten was the only other Pheasant to win his match, as he pinned his opponent at 167.

The Redfield "B" squad also fell to the Trojans, by the same score as the varsity, 30-12. Ed Galvin got the only pin for the Pheasants. Paul Patterson, Randy Bentz, Terry Anderson, and Bill

Redfield Service Clubs, Organizations Benefit School, Area Through Projects

BY DEBBY JONES

Approximately 40 percent of the students at RHS are involved in long-term service projects. Most of the students devote one period per day to their duties.

Many of the activities have been designed by the administration to ease the work load of the professionals in the system. Others have been initiated by the students themselves to serve a need of the school or community.

Fifteen girls work as assistants in the grade and high school offices. In the grade office, duties range from running of dittos to dusting the offices. The high school girls pick up attendance slips and make trips to the post office. All girls are called upon to deliver messages and complete other odd jobs for the administrative staff.

Working directly with the teachers are twenty-four student aides. These students are assigned through the grade office to elementary teachers. While the tasks vary with the teachers, the students are most often engaged in correcting and grading papers, tutoring children who need extra help, and making bulletin boards.

Also working in the grade school are four boys who serve as playground assistants and hall supervisors. The playground assistants help Mrs. Marlin Flint, playground director, maintain order and safety during the "noon-hour" recess. Hall supervisors patrol the children returning from the lunchroom and assist the children with their wraps.

Twenty-three students help in the high school library and elementary media center. These students check books in and out, shelve books, and do general housekeeping. The media center workers also assist the grade schoolers with their use of the audiovisual materials. In the library, the students find magazines for researchers and read the shelves — that is they check to see that all books are in the correct place.

Buttering bread, pouring milk, and dishing up food are among the jobs of the twenty-two student lunchroom workers. Also included in their schedule are carrying cases and the general clean-up tasks required by the lunchroom. These workers do receive compensation for their services. They are

Redfield's Pheasant wrestlers dropped their first conference match on January 21, here at Redfield.

Milbank's strength in the upper weights proved too much for the Pheasants, as the Bulldogs won the last four matches. Redfield got started right as Dale Jessen won an 11-0 decision. At 119, Bruce Cartner got the only pin for the Pheasants.

At 138, improving Gary Van Vleet decisioned his opponent 5-0. Gary Lambert got the other Redfield points, with a 5-0 decision at 145.

The "B" squad also lost its first conference match to Milbank. The Bulldog reserves slipped past the Pheasants 28-27 in the preliminary match.

MILBANK

Redfield Pheasant cagers turned in a fine ball game but still came out on the short end of an 82-71 score January 21. The game was played at Milbank.

The Pheasants held statistical edges in some departments. Led by Daryl Jungwirth with 17 rebounds, Russ Battey with 14, and Randy Swedeen, nine rebounds, the Pheasants maintained a 51-45 total rebounding edge. Redfield also managed eight fewer turnovers than the Bulldogs, giving up 20 to 28 for Milbank. Redfield fell somewhat in shooting percentage, as the Pheasants managed to connect on only 39 per cent of their shots.

Russ Battey turned in a fine performance and led Redfield scorers with 23 points. He was followed by Daryl Jungwirth and Dave Dorsey, who accounted for 12 and nine points, respectively.

Coach Sam Willits' Chicks eked out their eighth victory of the year by a score of 54-53.
